23rd February 2025

Dear parents and carers,

I hope you have all managed to have a restful half term.

We have had some concerns that the playground before school has children on bikes and scooters and children not supervised by parents leading to accidents or near misses. There have also been other concerns raised regarding supervision of all adults on the site. In order to support this the school gates will not open until 8:10 and we are asking that children do not play football / ball games before the day starts. We will also ensure that there are staff members on the playground from when the gates open until they close at 8:40

On Monday the KS2 choir are off to Manchester for the young voices concert and on Tuesday we have Entrust in school doing a live performance to the children. I am pleased to say that a handful of our parents are now paying for music lessons and it is lovely to see children having individual lessons on instruments ranging from the trumpet to the piano. If you would be interested in finding out the cost and availability of these individual lessons then please contact me.

News from the Reading Ambassadors

World Book day 7th March 2025

The theme for this year's World Book day is Read Your Way.

This theme encourages everyone to let go of pressure and expectations, giving children a choice – and a chance – to enjoy reading.

As a school we will be celebrating in different ways:

- On Friday 7th March children can come into school dressed up as a character from a book, an author or just clothes they like to wear when reading. Anything goes!
- During the week each class will pair up with another class and buddy read together
- We will be having a competition where children are asked to create a new title for a book by their favourite author. Children can choose any author. Children need to design the front cover and include the new title. They will also need to write a blurb for the new book on the back.
